

ROOSEVELT ON COUNTRY LIFE

Writes Presidents Of Commission What His Ideas Are Concerning Information Wanted.

SUGGESTS INFORMAL GATHERINGS

Wants Farmers To Offer Suggestions That May Be Used By Congress During The Coming Session.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—Through co-operation of farmers and professionals interested in the work of the country life commission is urged and the appointment of two additional members of the commission, Charles S. Barrett of Union City, Ga., and William A. Board, of Sacramento, Cal., is announced, in a letter of President Roosevelt to Charles Bailey of the commission.

The letter and the reply of Mr. Bailey welcoming the President's suggestions were made public today. The President's letter follows, dated November 9:

"My Dear Professor Bailey: I wish at the outset cordially to thank you for the way in which you have taken hold of the work you are doing. No more valuable work for the people of this country can be done, because no more valuable work for the farmers of this country can be done."

"Now, of course the whole success of the work depends upon the attitude of the people in the open country, of the farming people of the United States. If they feel an awakening interest in what you are doing, they should manifest it. Moreover, it is essential that the farmers, the men who actually live on the soil, should feel a sense of ownership in this commission. Should feel that you gentlemen in every truth represent them and are responsive to their desires and wishes, no less than to their feelings of ownership in this commission should they feel you gentlemen in every truth represent them and are responsive to their desires and wishes no less than to their needs. It seems to me, therefore, that it would be well to try to get into the closest possible touch with the farmers of the country and to find out from them, as far as you are able, just what they regard as being the subjects with which is most important that you should deal. This you are already doing by sending out a circular of questions and by holding meetings in different parts of the United States. But perhaps something more can be done."

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT." Mr. Bailey's reply to the President follows:

"The commission on country life is much gratified that its efforts have met with your approval. The public interest in the subject seems to be widespread and to be constantly growing, as the purpose of the work becomes known. Discussion of the inquiry that the commission is making, among the people themselves, is the best means of arriving at a clear understanding of what the country life problems really are. The commission gladly welcomes your suggestion that all country people come together to consider these great questions, and hereby requests all persons who are specially interested in the welfare of the open country to meet in their usual gathering places on or before December 5 to discuss the subject you suggest, or any of the questions on which the commission is making inquiries."

"Copies of the questions may be secured by writing to the Commission on Country Life, Washington, D. C. The commission desires that, so far as possible, a general summary or estimate of the discussions in all the meeting places be promptly sent to its office in Washington, so that it may have the benefit of all suggestions in preparing its report."

Secretary Root Says He Does Not Seek United States Senatorship But Would Take the Job.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—Secretary Root today made the following statement regarding the senatorial situation in New York state: "I am not seeking the office of senator and do not think any great office ought to be given any one because he wants it, but if the legislature of New York state representing the people feel it can render a useful service to the state and country in the senate and call upon me to render that service, I shall accept the office."

Famous Horses at Auction.

New York, Nov. 16.—Many celebrated racing and show horses were on the list to be sold at the annual "Old Glory" sale which was opened in Madison Square Garden this morning and will continue through the greater part of the week. The prominence of the horses to be disposed of led to marked interest in the occasion and a number of well-known horsemen from various parts of the United States and Canada were present. Prominent among the consignments is the entire Deenwold racing stable of Arnold Lawson, formerly the property of Thomas W. Lawson of Boston.

Christians Meet in Conference.

Columbus, S. C., Nov. 16.—Columbia is filled with delegates to the twenty-ninth annual missionary convention of the Churches of Christ in South Carolina, which will be in session here during the next three days. Included among the visitors are a number of prominent missionaries.

JURY FOUND OBORN SHOWED NO INSANITY

Marquette Murder Case Was Adjudged Until December 14th Owing to Illness of Judge's Wife.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Marquette, Wis., Nov. 16.—The trial of Bill Oborn on the charge of murder came to an abrupt end this morning before it had hardly been started. The jury found Oborn sane early Sunday morning after being out all night. Today was to begin the murder trial with the same jury that decided the first question, that of sanity. Judge Burnell, of Oshkosh, who was trying the case, received word that his wife had been stricken with appendicitis and he adjourned court and left immediately for home. The trial was set for Oshkosh beginning December 14th.

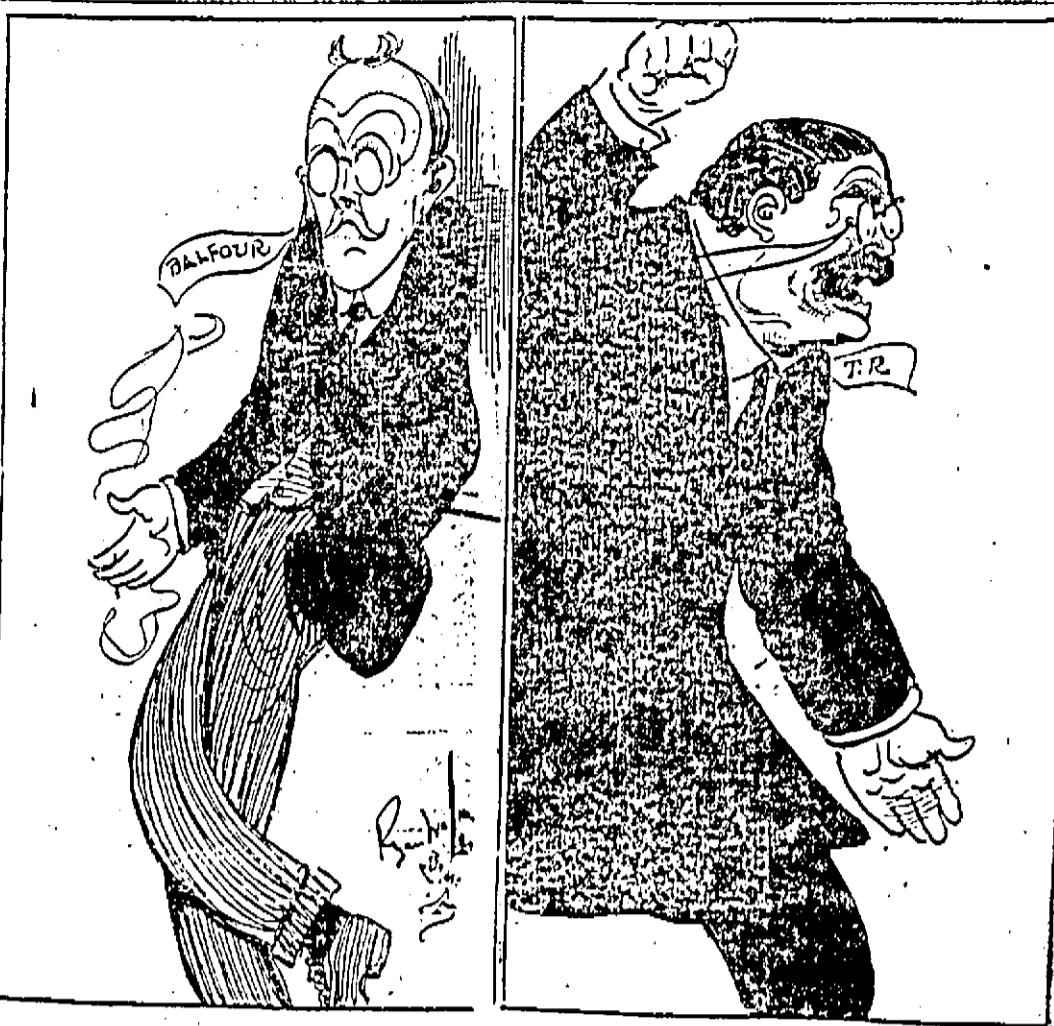

Doll Oborn killed Louis Koblitz on May 19th at Amherst, Wis., and his attorneys will now urge justifiable homicide.

UPLIFT COMMISSION MET STATE MASTERS

Representatives at Orange Convention in Washington Confer.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—The members of President Roosevelt's uplift commission met in this city today to confer with masters of the State Granges and representatives of farmers' institutes workers from various parts of the country. Tomorrow the commissioners will confer with the delegates of the association of agricultural colleges and experiment stations.

Tomorrow night the commissioners plan to start for the southwest, by way of Tennessee and Texas, and proceeding no far as Arizona and California. On the return trip the commission will hold hearings in practically all of the states of the middle west.

—Again thanking you, and with all good wishes for your success in this great and important work, believe me,

"Very sincerely yours,

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Mr. Bailey's reply to the President follows:

GRAND OPERA SEASON OPENS IN NEW YORK

Will Probably Eclipse All Former Beacons of the Metropolitan Opera House.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New York, Nov. 16.—With every prospect of eclipsing all records for variety and brilliancy, the annual season of grand opera at the Metropolitan Opera House opens tonight with a performance of "Aida." The majority of singers already known to patrons of the Metropolitan have been retained, while the management has added a number of artists of the first rank who have never before been heard in America. Foremost among the latter is Emmy Destinn, the famous Bohemian dramatic soprano, from the Royal Opera House in Berlin, and the sensation of the recent season at Covent Garden.

Other newcomers are Leonora Sparaco, an English singer; Ada Adalberto, an Italian dramatic soprano; Frances Alida, a lyric soprano from La Scala, in Milan; Bertrice James, an American coloratura soprano, and Maria Gay, a famous Spanish contralto, whose principal role is Carmen.

Favoritism from former years are

Mimì, Gomes, Sembrich, Gudzki, Farar, Stromstad, Morena, Rappold, Mattfeld, Ermis, and Homer and Carmo, Bonci, Burgstaller, Martin, Cortiz, Campanari, Reiss, Muchimann, Scotti, and Illes.

The new opera to be given this season include d'Albert's "Mefistofele," in German; Catalani's "La Wally" in Italian; Puccini's "Le Villi" in Italian; Simonetti's "Dio Verkaufte Brant," in German, and Tschakowsky's "La Dama di Picche," in Italian. The revivals will be Massenet's "Manon," in French; Mozart's "Le Nozze di Figaro," in Italian, and Verdi's "Falstaff," in Italian.

POPE PIUS X CELEBRATED MASS IN ST. PETERS TODAY

In Honor Of The Fiftieth Anniversary Of His Ordination To The Priesthood.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Rome, Nov. 16.—One of those memorable scenes which only Rome can show was that furnished today in the Church of St. Peter, in observance of his sacerdotal jubilee, the 50th anniversary of his entrance into the priesthood. Pope Pius X. celebrated mass in the presence of the princes and high dignitaries of the church, the diplomats, the Roman nobles and pilgrims from all parts of the world. The event was accompanied with all the solemnity and splendor customary to the occasion.

Preparations for the jubilee celebration have been going forward for months past. Thousands of tickets had been distributed for today's ceremony and a dense crowd packed the corridors, hall, and tribunes, and marched almost to the feet of the altar itself, while the plaza of St. Peter's was a moving mass of women in black with bare heads, men in dress clothes, priests, monks, soldiers, carabiniers, nuns, spectators and cardinals, some on foot, others in cars, many in more or less gorgeous private carriages, all with eyes fixed on the great bronze doors, which were the portals to the profound spectacle.

When the Pope, preceded by prelates, archbishops and cardinals and other members of the pontifical court, entered the vast multitude were raised in cheers, although it was a church in which they were assembled. It is only in St. Peter's that such cheers are heard, and even in that building only, since the Italian invasion of Rome, which obliged the Pope to become a prisoner within the walls of the Vatican. The ovations were hearty and prolonged, and the waving of white handkerchiefs gave a joyous aspect to the scene.

The figure of Pius X., arrayed in complete pontifical robes, mitre on head, and with raised hand in the familiar position of giving blessing as he went, was most imposing. The procession was headed by the Swiss guards, followed by many personages. Following the holy father came a long train of dignitaries, together with the diplomatic corps and the aristocracy of Rome.

ANTI-CRUELTY CONVENTION SESSION IN NEW ORLEANS

Gathering Of Notable Persons Interested In Dumb Brutes Will Be Held During The Coming Week.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New Orleans, Nov. 16.—The trend of human tendencies away from barbarism toward the reign of the golden rule, as exemplified in the movement to mitigate cruelty especially against children and animals, will be set forth in its various aspects during the coming week in the thirty-second annual meeting of the American Humane Association, which will be held in this city on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The first half of the meeting will be devoted to the interests of the work for children, the second to those of that for animals. It is the custom of the association to alternate meetings to reverse the order of consideration of these two branches of its endeavor. At a great public mass meeting to be held on Thursday evening, the convention will close with consideration of the broad aspects of the humanitarian movement.

One of the most practical of the subjects to be considered is that of the juvenile court movement. At various times during the portion of the time devoted to the interests of children there will be addressed

JOHN MCKINNEY.

THE CHURCH AND SOCIETY

Both Should Strive to Make Pure and Benefit Their Members.

Yesterday morning at Christ church Rev. John McKinney delivered a fine sermon on the manner in which the life of the church and the lives of individuals could be elevated to the height which they should attain. "He took us on the text of the lesson, the words of the Apostle Paul in the ninth, tenth, and eleventh verses of his letter to the Philippians.

He spoke of this man, in prison, writing to the converts he has made and his prayer that certain things might take place in their church and in their own lives that would in the future make them an ideal church and an ideal people; that their love might abound more than ever in knowledge and in judgment and that they might be sincere and pure in all things, approving only of the things which are good. Paul spoke of the excellent beginning which the Philippians had made and which he prayed might be continued and increased.

He tells them that their love is to be a love such as goes out to God's little ones but it should be a love that is also tempered with judgment and with wisdom, in order that they may not be indiscernible. In their approval of all things and that they might be sincere and pure because of this love. Knowledge is the development of the love which we have received from Jesus. He came to exemplify some of the Father's works, love is to go on from a child-love, Paul says. It must be abounding in the things of the world. They should not set their seal to things which are evil though they may be done by persons who were members of the Philippians church. They are to approve the things which are excellent and are for the best. He gets for them a high ideal that they might be approved in the day of judgment, when all that is false and unlovely will be exposed and we will stand as naked before Christ. He sets this ideal no higher than is necessary to help one over the hard places without which there can be no progress. To him who has no ideal which he is striving to attain, his life is a failure. This is true any where and every where and is true in the church of God.

These things which Paul recommended to the Philippians should be in the character of every church on the face of the earth. If his teachings as told in this epistle were used as an example to follow there would be less reprobation against the church. The church, and society as well, should not gloss over with a white exterior the things which they know to be unclean and unrighteous in their interior. They should not so easily pass the faults and sins of a man because of his wealth or because he is a good fellow. When Christian people do allow such things to exist in their church and amongst their number, it is no wonder that the people who are outside of the church mock at and point to it in derision. If, however, the church does its duty, and refuses to admit to it, one who is known as a good fellow or one who possesses wealth or some other such attribute to make him popular, the people say how narrow the church is. What is needed is that we should go back and become as the people of the church were in the days of its virginity; in the days when men and women were sincere, pure and filled with righteousness.

The church shows the world its iniquities and sins and the world is offended at the church. They who would enter the kingdom of God must be sincere, pure and approve of all things that are excellent and cast shame upon those things which are not good. These things which Paul has written to the Philippians are just as applicable as they were at the time when they were written. If the church would always apply them, it would be a different church, a stronger church which would then confront the enemy. These ideas set forth by Paul are far in advance of any of the ideas of the world. You know what the world is doing against the Lord's day, in breaking it in all manner of ways the commandment given to us in regard to the way in which the day should be spent. You also know what it is doing against the working man. Socialism, however, will sweep like a wave over this country and right these wrongs of the laborer. The demand will come from everywhere and the laboring man will have his just dues.

Every man and every church must emphasize these three things which Paul told to the Philippians, if they are to live and to grow: They must be stated, only to approve of the things which are excellent and which are good. Also, you and I have got to be sincere in our worship if we are to come to the day of judgment. Not only must we be sincere in our service in the church, but we must be sincere in our practices outside of the church and what we do through the week. If we bear these things in mind we will find that we have been building up a character that will be able to stand up in the day of Jesus Christ, that is in the day of judgment, when each one will be seen as he really is and will stand before the throne of God as our souls have been and not as we would like to have had them.

You hear these things but you do not heed them. With love, sincerity, and approving of all things that are good we can attain such a character as we would like to have in the day when we shall stand with our sins and iniquities all exposed. We can attain it. We may not attain it swiftly, by leaps and by bounds but by following these doctrines we can accomplish it.

BELoit TEAM LOST
SATURDAY'S GAME

LINE CITY College Football Players

Were Defeated by De Paul.

Beloit, WIS., Nov. 16.—The Beloit college eleven was once more defeated last Saturday afternoon at the hands of De Paul. The score was 20 to 5. The field was slippery and a driving snow was falling, making all forward passes and trick plays upon which Beloit had relied for gains, impossible. Beloit was unable to approach De Paul's goal any nearer than the five yard line during the first half and three times were they held there. In the second half, the team showed more fight and scored a touchdown during the last two minutes of play.

The changes in the Beloit line which had been made during the past week, proved to be of great advantage to the team and were responsible for blocking several of De Paul's formations. Beloit used the middle line a number of times for good sized gains but their only attempt to kick from placement was a failure. Beloit gained more than De Paul and Reischel proved superior to Burson in kicking.

Scrubs Won.

The Beloit college "scrubs" made a visit to the Whitewater Normal school last Saturday afternoon and incidentally wrested victory from the normal football eleven. The score was 14 to 17. The two teams played even up on the field and the score would have been a tie had not Johnson, Whitewater's left half, made a slight miscalculation in kicking the first goal. The Whitewater boys were able to make good gains on line-hauls but the Beloit second team had contracted the forward pass fever and worked to its greatest advantage whenever they needed more ground. It was a forward pass that gave Beloit her last touch-down in the last two minutes of play.

Makes It Possible to Start Machine
From Seat With Non-Kick-Back
Lever Instead of Crank.

EDWARD HEYLMAN'S
NEW AUTO DEVICE

Makes It Possible to Start Machine
From Seat With Non-Kick-Back

Edward M. Heylman who has charge of the JANESEVILLE Machine Co.'s drafting department and engineers and perfects most of the new appliances, has invented a device for starting an automobile with a lever operated from the seat and his application for a patent is now on file at Washington. The lever does away with the inconvenient and dangerous crank and, after it has been pulled back a cog drops into the ratchet wheel and absolutely prevents any "kick-back." His design also cuts for the abolition of the speed and brake levers which encumber the right hand side of the present-day machine and the substitution therefor of small pedal devices placed in the bottom of the vehicle. While there are numerous plans, in various states of perfection, for starting a gasoline engine without cranking, they all call for complicated apparatus to store reserve gas, etc., and have thus far been found impracticable. Mr. Heylman has examined the patent records quite carefully and has reason to believe that his is the first device submitted for starting an automobile from the seat by the crank system, without the use of a crank.

COMMISSION WILL

VISIT UNIVERSITY

Roosevelt's Committee to Investigate
Country Life in America to Inspect State University.

The Commission on Country Life, appointed by President Roosevelt, will leave Washington on November 18 and will visit several educational centers of the west for the purpose of obtaining information on the condition of western country life, whether anything needs to be done to improve it, and if so what it may be. It is proposed to hold hearings at agricultural colleges so far as practicable as these institutions provide effective organizations for securing the attendance of persons who are well qualified to express an opinion on country life questions. In particular, the commission invites the attendance at these hearings of representative farmers, teachers, business men, physicians and others who live in the open-country or have direct relations with it. Accredited delegates from grangers, farmers' clubs or similar organizations as well as farmers and others who come on their own responsibility and who are likely to be helpful in the investigation will be invited.

HAAS IS A SUICIDE

F. J. Heney's Assailant Kills Himself in Jail.

DERRINGER HIDDEN IN SHOE

Police Believe Wife Gave Him the Weapon—Wounded Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Stated to Be Well on the Road to Recovery.

San Francisco, Nov. 16.—Morris Haas, the saloon keeper who attempted to kill Francis J. Heney in court, committed suicide in his cell in the county jail Saturday evening by putting a bullet in his brain.

Haas was in his cell at the county jail with his guard. He retired to bed early, pulling the blanket over his head. A moment afterward the guard was surprised to hear a muffled report of the pistol under the blankets.

They stripped off the covering and found Haas dying with a bullet hole through his head and blood flowing from the wound.

Plated Hidden in His Shoe.

Investigation showed that Haas had cunningly hidden a small, one-shot derringer in the back of his shoe, where it escaped the notice of his guards.

Capt. Duke of the police declares that he searched Haas carefully after stripping him and that he had no weapon, then. As Mrs. Haas visited the prisoner Saturday afternoon, the officers believe she carried the derringer in her pocket and slipped it to her husband.

Heney on Road to Recovery.

The condition of Mr. Heney is still most satisfactory and the attending surgeons report that he is making excellent progress on the road to recovery. He passed a comfortable night, sleeping most of the time, and rested easily Sunday.

Although the bullet has been located, imbedded in the left jaw about one inch from the front of the ear, the surgeons have decided not to extract it until Mr. Heney gains more strength.

When told that his assailant had taken his own life at the county jail, he said: "It is too bad he did it before giving his reason for shooting me."

MRS. READ STEADILY SINKING.

Denver—"Dynamite Woman" Said to Be in Critical Condition.

Denver, Nov. 16.—Mrs. Allen P. Read, who threatened to kill Mrs. Genevieve Chandler Phillips with dynamite unless $20,000 was immediately given her, is reported by members of her family who have had her in charge since being released from jail, to be in a critical condition and to be steadily sinking, as her stomach refuses to retain nourishment. She is said to be laboring under the impression that she had caused the death of some one and to evince hotheaded remorse.

Convinced that Mrs. Read was demented when she arrived in Denver, Chief of Police Armstrong has decided upon a discontinuance of the investigation until she recovers her mind sufficiently to give a coherent account of the incidents leading to the attack on Mrs. Phillips.

Mrs. Read's sister, Miss Jessie Campbell, after further consulting the memoranda gathered by her, admitted Mrs. Read may have left Buffalo prior to November 2, when a woman giving the name of Alice Cheney Brown fraudulently obtained bonds worth $20,000 from Babcock, Rushton & Launderback of Chicago, which were surrendered when she was overtaken at the station just before leaving for Denver.

SEEK TO RESTORE RACING.

Arkansas Business Men to Ask Repeal of Anti Law.

Hot Springs, Ark., Nov. 16.—A movement is now on foot to repeal the celebrated Anti-racing bill and re-establish racing here. The Business Men's league at a meeting appointed a committee to draft a bill re-establishing racing under certain restrictions to be presented before the coming legislature. A fight is expected in the legislature over the bill.

Carmack's Memory Honored.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 16.—In a large number of towns and cities throughout the state, services were held Sunday in memory of the late E. W. Carmack, former United States senator from Tennessee, who was killed by Hobie J. Cooper in a street duel. Resolutions highly eulogistic of the former senator, were adopted by the various gatherings and in several instances the name of Carmack's taking off was severely condemned.

Railway Man Dies in Church.

Woburn, Mass., Nov. 16.—Edward D. Hayden, vice-president and secretary of the Boston & Albany railroad, and a member of the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth congresses, died of apoplexy in his pew at the Woburn Unitarian church Sunday. He was born in Cambridge December 27, 1833.

Kills Her Children and Herself.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 16.—Lying in pools of blood, with their throats cut from ear to ear, Mrs. Agnes Linton and her two children, aged five and three years, respectively, were found in their home Sunday by neighbors. A razor was found in the clenched hand of the mother.

To Wash Flannels

P. & G. Naphtha Soap is ideal for that purpose.

Read these directions:

Brush and shake flannels free from dust. Make a suds in lukewarm water. Let the flannels soak ten minutes. Meanwhile, make a strong soap suds in a quart of warm water, using a soft brush to get the soap off the cake. Squeeze and press the flannel in the soapy water; if any soiled parts appear, stretch the part on a smooth surface and rub the strong suds into the cloth with the brush. Use a wringer for flannels; do not twist them. Put flannels through a second light suds if they are much soiled, always having each water to be used no warmer than the first. Rinse until water is clear, using two or three waters if necessary and adding a little soap to each water if it is hard. Stretch garments into shape and hang them to dry. Underwear will need no pressing, but dress goods should be taken while damp and ironed till dry with a warm (not hot) iron. Iron the wrong side of the material if possible; if not, cover material with a cotton cloth of the same color and press until dry.

P. & G. Naphtha Soap is sold by good grocers everywhere.

The price is 5 cents a cake.

EXPIRES IN PRESENCE OF EMPEROR WILLIAM

Tragic Death of Gen. Huelken-Haeuser Postpones Kaiser's Meeting with the Chancellor.

Berlin, Nov. 16.—Greatly shocked by the sudden death of the chief of the German military cabinet, Gen. Count Huelken-Haeuser, the emperor has postponed the meeting he was to have had with Chancellor von Buelow Monday aboard a battleship at Kiel.

The emperor will return to Berlin on Tuesday, when the meeting between him and the imperial chancellor, which the country awaits with intense feeling, is expected to occur. Count Huelken-Haeuser was laughing and talking after dinner at Darmstadt Saturday evening, when he suddenly fell, stricken with apoplexy, in the emperor's presence, and died almost immediately. He has held the position of imperial adjutant for 19 years and was the emperor's constant companion. He had the ability to tell most amusing stories in the Berlin dialect and had an immense influence in the army, because all promotions passed through his hands. The higher commands depended much upon his judgment.

Public irritation against the emperor, as indicated in the newspapers and in the general conversations wherever one goes, seems to increase with the delay in the emperor's reviving the chancellor. The expectation appears to be that the emperor, if he recognizes the feeling of the country, will make some sort of a declaration which may tranquillize his subjects.

The depth of the popular sense of gloom against the emperor is almost inexplicable. One of the leaders of the National Liberals in the Reichstag said: "The emperor has lost 75 per cent. of his influence in Germany within two weeks."

The general manager of one of the principal machinery works in Berlin, who was present when this remark was made, added: "Yes, he has lost 90 per cent."

PABLO HERD ESCAPES.

Bison Sold to Canada Can't Be Shipped This Season.

Missoula, Mont., Nov. 16.—The strenuous work of the past two months on the flathead reservation in rounding up and corraling 250 bison of the Pablo herd, purchased by the Canadian government, has come to naught, and there will be no shipments of the animals to Canada this year.

Despite all the precautions that had been taken to insure the success of the drive, the inclosure into which the buffaloes had been driven preparatory to loading them into cars at Ravalli proved insecure and the herd is now roaming at will on the reservation. Michael Pablo, former owner of the herd, Superintendent Douglass of the Bannock national park, and M. Ayotte, special agent, have agreed that it is not practicable to make another attempt at this time of the year on account of the danger that lies in the shipment of animals by train in cold weather.

Balloon Race Is a Fizzle.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 16.—Because of unusual atmospheric conditions, the trans-continental balloon race which was to have been started from Los Angeles Sunday was a fiasco. Only the big balloon, America, was sent up and it was carried by a steady wind and directly toward the Pacific ocean. It is believed to have landed somewhere on the beach. The other balloon, United States, profited by the example of its rival and did not ascend.

Serious Ailment.

"Yes," said Mrs. Lapaling, "my husband is much better now. For a day or two, though, he was threatened with tobacco—of the lungs."

Murderous Work of a Negro in Okmulgee, Okla.

MOB TAKES QUICK VENGEANCE

Desperado Is Shot and Sets Fire to His House as He Dies—Gov. Haskell Prepares to Send State Troops to Scene.

Oklmulgee, Okla., Nov. 16.—Jim Deckard, a negro desperado, killed four persons here Sunday afternoon and wounded ten others before he was himself slain by a crowd of citizens.

The dead: Edgar Robinson, sheriff of Okmulgee county; Henry Klahor, assistant chief of police of Okmulgee; two negroes named Chapman, brothers; Jim Deckard, negro.

The wounded: Steve Grayson, Indian boy, fatally beaten; Vic Farr, chief of police, shot through shoulder; deputy sheriff, name not learned, arm broken; seven others slightly wounded.

Deckard Slays Seven.

The disturbances began at the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad station where Jim Deckard engaged in a fight with an Indian boy, Steve Grayson, and beat him into unconsciousness with a rock. Friends of Grayson notified the police and when Policeman Klahor went to the station Deckard fled to his house nearby, barricaded himself in and when Klahor approached, Deckard shot and instantly killed him.

Sheriff Robinson gathered a posse in a few minutes and hurried to the scene. Part of this posse was made up of a group of negroes, whom the sheriff commissioned as deputies. As the posse approached the house Deckard opened fire with a rifle, firing as rapidly as he could load his weapon. The sheriff fell first, instantly killed. Then two of the negro deputies were slain.

Murderer Himself Killed.

Deckard's house was soon surrounded by a frenzied mob of armed men. Fire was not to a house just north of Deckard's. Volleys were poured into Deckard's house and he was shot down. He was seen to roll over on the floor, strike a match and set fire to his own house, which was soon a roaring furnace in which his body was baked. Deckard evidently had a large quantity of ammunition stored in his house, for many cartridges exploded while the house was burning.

Gov. Lindell at Guthrie was notified of the battle and of the bad feeling between whites and negroes that had grown out of it and threatened a race riot. The governor at once ordered the militia company at Muskogee to prepare to go to Okmulgee and a special train was made ready to carry the troops, the governor remaining at his office to keep in touch with the situation. News of the preparation to send militia here had a good effect on the disorderly element of both races, and at seven o'clock Sunday night the crowd had dispersed and further trouble was not expected.

When it became known that no other negro had assisted Deckard against the officers, the tally of rebels subduced.

Fatal Fight in Wetumka.

Wetumka, Okla., Nov. 16.—In a street battle here Sunday noon, Ben Smith was killed and John Tabner, the town marshal, was fatally wounded. The marshal was shot, after he had killed Ben Smith, by Jim Smith, a brother of the slain man.

ELKINS DENIES ENGAGEMENT.

Says His Daughter Is Not to Marry Duke d'Abuzzl.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Senator Stephen B. Elkins Sunday night made the emphatic announcement that no engagement exists between his daughter, Miss Katherine Elkins, and the Duke d'Abuzzl.

The statement was made with the knowledge and consent of Miss Elkins, who declared that it should be given to the public which has manifested so great an interest in the matter. The statement follows:

"I do not care to say anything further than that my daughter and the Duke d'Abuzzl are not engaged to be married, and that I regret exceedingly the annoyance that must have come to the duke and his family by reason of the almost daily discussion of the matter in the press and the constant publication of rumors for so long a time, rumors which I venture to hope will now cease."

Cleveland Has a $200,000 Fire.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 16.—The five-story building occupied by the F. M. Kirby Company, five and ten cent store, and the M. Phillipshorn Company, suits and cloaks, located in the shopping district on Euclid avenue, was completely gutted by fire Sunday. The store occupied by J. W. Wexman Sons, clothiers, was flooded by water and the costly decorations in the 12-story bank building of the Guardian Trust Company, were damaged by smoke. The total loss will aggregate $200,000.

Raymer Witness a Suicide.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 16.—Rather than suffer the disgrace of arrest on a charge of forgery, Rollie T. Sturges, one of the state's chief witnesses against Abe Raymer, alleged leader of the Springfield race riot, shot and killed himself Sunday.

These two governors have before them the greatest problem since the Civil war—namely, the depredations of the night riders in the tobacco country of Kentucky and Tennessee. Both governors have come out strongly opposed to the stand taken by these men and have ordered out state militia to meet and defend the innocent parties who are subject to depredations at the hands of the now famous night riders. If law and order are to be maintained in Kentucky and Tennessee, Governor Patterson and Governor Wilson are the men who will have to enforce it.

Almost Too Fast.

"Noo York" said Uncle Rooster, "is certainly a fast place. Durned if they don't start asellin' the evenin' papers that before breakfast."

Science and Invention

COOKING IN A KEG

It is the Very Latest Word of the Development of Fireless Stove.

Wireless telegraphy is not accomplished entirely without wires and wireless contrivance is not arrived at without fire. The advantage of the latter system of cooking is that the article does not get warm when the operation of cooking having been started in the regulation manner either on a coal or gas stove. It is continued through the entire process to the end in the improved cooker without the further use of fire. Meals in the course of treatment are thoroughly cooked without the real danger of burning and demand no watchful care such as is required when the articles are being cooked in the regulation manner on a stove. The latest form of a fireless cooker is that of a keg as shown herewith. The jacket of the keg is the very latest word of the development of fireless stove. A simple and inexpensive device to effectively stretch a carpet, and temporarily retain it in that position is shown in the accompanying illustration. It consists of a rectangular block, of sufficient size to support the feet of the carpet. A set of comparatively short and dull teeth are attached to the under surface slightly in advance of the center of the block. The teeth being short and dull, will grip the carpet without passing through to the floor. Another set of teeth is held in the regulation manner on a stove or gas burner. The carpet is placed over the teeth of the stove and the carpet is held in place by the teeth of the block.

The cooking apparatus of this kind is done by schedule. The cook knows which viands require the longest treatment, and these are subjected to the heat of the gas burner or stove for a slightly longer period than others and the schedule tells how soon the articles will be ready to be taken from the cooker, although no harm is done by leaving them in a longer period.

Curvature Gauge.

Device for Determining the Exact Position of the Vertebrae.

In the treatment of cases of deformity of the vertebrae doctors and attendants have experienced considerable difficulty in ascertaining when improvement is going on. Even when the treatment is being properly conducted the progress is very slow and is never observable to the naked eye. Consequently, the attendants are seldom able to determine at once whether the measures adopted are along the right lines. With the aid of the apparatus shown here, patented by a California man, the case may now be accurately and instantly determined. The doctor or attendant is enabled to make a record and to determine with certainty the changes in the relative position of the curvature which take place under the influence of the remedial measures adopted in any particular case of deformity. The device embodies a vertical standard and a series of adjustable rods, one for each vertebrae of the human body. These rods, being simple and convenient to operate, enable a record to be kept of a class of physical deformities in which the uncertain and unreliable ocular observation of the attendant or doctor has heretofore been relied on for determining changes and the propriety and nature of future treatment.

NECKTIE RETAINER

Engages Front of Shirt to Hold the Necktie Down Properly.

Every man is troubled with the problem of how to prevent the necktie from slipping out and protruding over the top of the vest in front, presenting a very ugly appearance. To alleviate the use of the separate clip usually employed for securing the hanging or tying ends of the necktie to the front of the vest, a New York man has devised the arrangement shown here. This consists of retainers attached to the necktie which are formed of one or more loops or eyes, either elastic or nonelastic. These loops engage with the front shirt stud or the shirt itself, being placed on the inner surface of the ends. They are arranged in succession, any one being engaged with the shirt stud, according to its relative position. Such metal hooks can be employed for the necktie, the necktie engaging with the shirt stud position. These retainers are adapted to all neckties having ends which lie over the shirt bosom, whether "double" neckties or such as are intended to be tied by the user.

INDICATOR DEFORMITY.

Influence of the remedial measures adopted in any particular case of deformity. The device embodies a vertical standard and a series of adjustable rods, one for each vertebrae of the human body. These rods, being simple and convenient to operate, enable a record to be kept of a class of physical deformities in which the uncertain and unreliable ocular observation of the attendant or doctor has heretofore been relied on for determining changes and the propriety and nature of future treatment.

STATE CIVIL SERVICE.

Among the political reforms which have been adopted during the past four years, the state civil service stands out as the most non-sectional and uncalled for. It is more theoretical than the primary law and was created for the sole purpose of perpetuating in office a small army of game wardens and factory inspectors, and keeping on the pay roll of state institutions a lot of employees whose first loyalty is to the administration which appointed them.

The superintendents of these institutions, who are held accountable for their management, have no more authority over their employes than a postmaster has over his clerks. He has nothing to do with selecting them, and if he dares to discharge for incompetency, is confronted with a law-suit.

Aside from the few engineers employed by the state, expert knowledge is not required to fill positions. A very ordinary brain can grasp the duties of a game warden, but he must be a political henchman to render acceptable service. The law should not be modified, but it should be repealed. The people want more intelligent service, and less civil service protected employees.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION.

The people of the state are to be congratulated on the attitude of the State Teachers' association towards a more practical education in the common schools. The fact has at last dawned upon them that more important than preparing a small percentage of scholars for the college and university is the preparation of the great majority for the work of life.

Under the present regime every high school must belong to the accredited class which means that the course of study must prepare the student for entrance into the higher institutions of learning without examination. This without reference to the rank and file who graduate from the grades or at least never get beyond the high school.

The Gazette has long maintained that this was unfair, and an injustice to the great mass of pupils who are obliged to spend time and energy on a class of studies that can be of no practical benefit. The loss which comes from this kind of school training, during the formative years of life, is a permanent loss, which amounts almost to a crime, for it sacrifices opportunities which never come to a life but once.

The destiny of a child is largely determined in the school room, and the responsibility of the educator is of great magnitude because of the autocratic tendencies. The average parent is a silent and indifferent spectator until the boy leaves school, when the discovery is made that he has acquired but little in the way of useful knowledge. It is fortunate for the nation that educators throughout the country are coming to take a common sense view of this important question. A national association, one thousand strong, will meet in Janesville in a few days, to promote the interest of practical education in the common schools. It is a tardy move in the right direction, entitled to every encouragement.

CONSOLATION.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Attended Funeral of Dr. Farr: Dr. James Mills and Dr. J. F. Pember were in Beloit Sunday afternoon and attended the funeral of the late Dr. Lyman H. Farr who was a classmate at Northwestern Medical college. The deceased graduated from that institution in 1887 and was forty-seven years of age.

Change of Time: The time of the train through here to St. Paul on the North-Western road which formerly arrived at 12:40, has been changed and will now leave at 12:20. The train arriving here from Chicago, going to Waterford and leaving at 8:30, leaves now at 8:00 o'clock.

Gone to Texas: Mr. L. L. Kellogg, Martha Dixon and Frank Reed departed Saturday morning for Texas where Mr. Kellogg will start a nursery. Dixon and Reed will remain until spring. Their destination is Alpine, Texas.

Mr. Bryan is like the powerful twelfth juror who cannot understand why the other eleven jurors do not agree with him. He talks just the same as he did after the election of 1896 and 1900, as if he were all right, and a majority of the voters all wrong, and that it was only necessary to wait another four years or so when the people would see the error of their ways and come around to his ideas.

We cannot but admire Mr. Bryan's persistence and his courage and his sublime faith in himself, although we must deplore his intellectual blindness.

In memory of her father, Mrs. Mary Wood has given the United Brethren church a large eleven hundred pound church bell. The bell has already been ordered from the manufacturer and will soon be ready for installation.

In the Winter

You do more cooking, and in greater variety, than you do in summer.

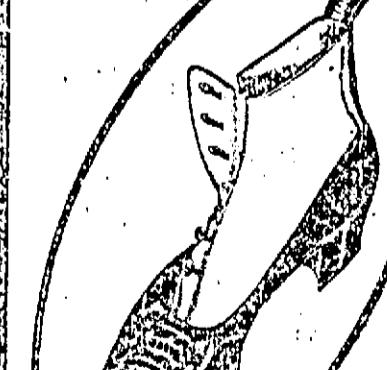

It is important, therefore, to properly equip your kitchen now, before the really cold weather has arrived.

With a gas range you are sure of being able to cook anything, and in any amount, with a certainty as to results that is impossible with a coal stove. This is because a gas range can be so perfectly regulated to just the necessary heat, and you are not dependent upon the quality of fuel, the condition of the weather, or the amount of attention you have given your fires.

A Gas Range and Water Heater will make your winter kitchen clean, labor-saving and economical.

Let us assist you in designing an ideal kitchen.

CONSUMPTION AND DENTISTRY.

It is the general accepted belief among professional medical men that consumption comes from infections through the stomach as much as from the lungs.

We are continually breathing in millions of disease germs.

If teeth are decayed, these germs lodge in the decayed spots and multiply by the thousands. They then pour into the stomach and multiply still faster.

This is true not only of the tubercular germs, but of all other disease germs and it is well to see that your teeth are in good shape so as to prevent sickness.

The teeth are of great importance to your health—possibly more than you ever thought.

It's a long story, but I will be glad to have you call for a pleasant visit at any time and talk over the subject with you.

You need not feel obligated to have the work done at once.

KILLED IN SUGAR
COMPANY'S YARDS

ACHILLES PAPPADIMITRIOU RUN OVER BY THE CARS.

EARLY SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Was a Young Greek About 20 Years of Age and Came to This Country From Thessaly a Year Ago.

Achilles Pappadimitriou, a young Greek who came to America from Thessaly about a year ago and who had been working in this vicinity for the past six months, was run over and killed by a C. & N. W. switching train in the Rock County Sugar Co. yards shortly after two o'clock yesterday afternoon. He had been one of the gang employed in laying steel for the C. M. & St. P. Ry. Co. but found that the labor was too hard for him and quit at noon yesterday. Some time thereafter he visited the sugar factory premises in quest of employment; secured a job; and was on his way back to town when the fatal accident occurred.

Boat-Piles His Undoing.

At this season of the year, as everyone who has visited the premises is aware, the railroad tracks for a distance of many rods are hemmed in by miniature mountain chains of sagebrush which slope down abruptly to the rails. It was at a point about 200 yards west of the factory that Pappadimitriou either boarded or tried to board or made an effort to escape from a train of freight cars that the switching engine was pulling out of the yards. According to one version of the terrible happening, the unfortunate man caught a hold of one of the cars but came into contact with the closely bordering ridge of roots and was unable to retain it. At any rate he lost his hold and went under the car wheels.

Body Terribly Mangled.

That the train had dragged him a hundred yards before it was brought to a stop just opposite the Paul home, was demonstrated when his coat, cap, and vest were subsequently found at a point that distance up the track. The body was terribly mangled, the left limb being entirely severed close to the trunk and wound about the axle and journal. Chief of Police George Appleyard and others who were summoned to the scene by Switchman Mulligan, had to get under the car and cut the retarding clothes away before the corpse could be extricated. The neck, breastbone, and left shoulder blade were broken and the left arm and hand were fractured and crushed in several places. Death must have been instantaneous.

Resided on Franklin Street.

A gold watch which the young man had carried had stopped at 2:15. The only other articles found in his clothes were a jack-knife, a finger-ring bearing the initial "D" (probably for Dimitriou as the prefix Pappa is said to mean "son of a clergyman"), a piece of a watch-chain, and a ten-cent piece.

The remains were removed to Kimball's morgue and committee of the deceased have wired to the Greek consul at Chicago asking him to assist them in making arrangements for a funeral there under the auspices of the Greek orthodox church.

District Attorney Fisher has asked the railroad company to help defray the expenses but no answer has thus far been received. Pappadimitriou was between 20 and 30 years of age and unmarried. So far as known a cousin in Beloit is the only relative in this country. He made his home, while here, in a stone house on North Franklin street.

PRETTY WEDDING AT NINE THIS MORNING

Miss Margaret Baker and Thomas S. Nolan United in Marriage at St. Mary's Church.

This morning at nine o'clock Father W. A. Cooley united in marriage Miss Margaret Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Baker, and Mr. Thomas S. Nolan, one of the firm of Nolan Brothers. Mrs. William Hemming, who played the wedding march thirty years ago for Mr. and Mrs. Baker's wedding, officiated at the organ. Mrs. Baker was attended by her sister, Miss Therese Baker as maid of honor and Miss O'Brien and Miss Croft of Chicago. W. F. McCue was best man for Mr. Nolan, and Frank Baker of Chicago, and Thomas Baker, brother of the bride, were ushers. Immediately following the ceremony at the church a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, 223 S. Main street. The home was tastefully decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums and the happy couple received the seventy-five invited guests amid a bower of these flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Nolan left on their wedding trip at twelve-thirty this noon amid a shower of rice and congratulations and upon their return will make their home for the winter at the groom's home on Lincoln street. Among the guests from out of the city who were present were Mr. and Mrs. McGuire, Mrs. Keegan, Mrs. J. Kehlring, Mrs. McGuire, Miss Ryan, Miss Croft and Miss O'Brien of Chicago, and Mr. Charles Pease, Miss Pease and Miss Hanlon of Watertown, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morris and daughter of Milton Junction, and Mr. and Mrs. Moran of Beloit. Mr. and Mrs. Nolan take with them the congratulations of their many friends.

Dr. George H. Clark will probably be appointed State Veterinarian to succeed Dr. David Roberts, by Governor Davidson this afternoon. Dr. Roberts resigned his position the first of November to resume his private practice and since then Dr. Clark has been doing the work of the office. Dr. Roberts was appointed to fill the office made vacant by the death of Dr. Evan D. Roberts of this city 3 years ago. Dr. Clark who had been Dr. Evan Roberts' partner and assistant, was appointed to the same position by Dr. David Roberts and is one of the best posted men on the conditions of live stock in the state. When Dr. Roberts tendered his resignation to Governor Davidson a few weeks ago Dr. Clark was the veterinarian most prominently spoken of for the office and it is understood that before making the announcement of Clark's appointment Governor Davidson conferred with the State Board of Agriculture and members of the Sanitary Live Stock Commission, both of which organizations approved of Dr. Clark's appointment. Dr. Clark is a Rock county boy and has made Janesville his home for several years since graduation from the veterinary college. He is a son of

RUSH TARIFF WORK

Taft Says He'll Call Special Session of Congress;

DATE SOON AFTER MARCH 4

President-Elect Spends a Busy Day at White House and Then Starts for Cincinnati on Family Business of Importance.

Washington, Nov. 16.—William H. Taft, president-elect, after spending Sunday as the guest of President Roosevelt, announced that soon after March 4 he would call the Sixty-first congress in special session to take up the matter of revision of the tariff. Judge Taft left at 7:05 o'clock Sunday night for Cincinnati, where he had been summoned on matters of family importance, but which Judge Taft assured the newspaper men, who had gathered at the White House, were in no manner connected with politics.

Busy Day for Judge Taft.

The day proved to be a busy one for the president-elect. He spent the night at the White House as the president's guest and breakfasted with the family. During the early forenoon the president and the president-elect discussed matters of importance to the present and the incoming administration. No announcement was made as to the principal topic of the discussion, although Judge Taft admitted that it was not the weather.

About 10:45 o'clock Judge Taft emerged from the White House to attend services at All Souls' Unitarian church, his usual place of worship when in Washington. Five minutes afterwards President Roosevelt started for the Dutch Reformed church, according to his custom.

Politics was discussed at luncheon, at which Secretary of State Root and Representative Nichols Longworth also were the president's guests. Ambassador Henry White, Postmaster General George von L. Meyer and Beckman Whithrop, assistant secretary of the treasury, dropped in during the afternoon to pay their respects.

His Plans for Immediate Future.

Following the various conferences of the day, Judge Taft talked freely about his plans for the immediate future. After spending two or three days in Cincinnati, he said, he again will join Mrs. Taft at Hot Springs. On December 7 he will be in Washington on his way to New York, where he will attend a meeting of the North Carolina society of that city. He will return to Washington for the meetings of the American Red Cross society, of which he is president. While here he and Mrs. Taft will be the guests of Miss Mabel Beardman, who has been active for several years in behalf of the society.

This visit to Washington will be limited to three or four days, after which the president-elect and Mrs. Taft will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Taft and family in New York. They will leave for Augusta, Ga., on the evening of December 16 or the morning of December 17, where they will seek rest for a month and a half. Further than that no definite plans have been made.

GOMEZ HAS BIG MAJORITY.

Liberal Ticket Wins Sweeping Victory in Cuban Elections.

Railroads Will Ignore Order.

Havana, Nov. 16.—Practically complete returns of the election show that the Liberal victory was even more decided than was supposed Saturday night. Official returns from 3,000 of a total of 1,408 polling places show that Gen. Jose Miguel Gomez received 183,823 votes, against 118,322 for Gen. Mario Monocal, the conservative candidate.

The Liberals carried every province in the island. Havana province went Liberal by 36,000 and the city by 13,000. The Liberal majorities in the other provinces were approximately as follows: Oriente, 12,500; Santa Clara, 11,000; Camaguey, 1,200; Pinar del Rio, 7,500; Matanzas, 8,000.

South Bend Post Office Robbed.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 16.—Thieves Saturday night plundered the South Bend post office of $18,633 in stamps and made such a successful escape that post office inspectors and police men are without a clue on which to conduct their search for the thieves.

Plow Factory Partly Burned.

Omaha, Nov. 16.—Fire early Sunday morning destroyed the west half of the Nebraska Moline Plow Company's factory, together with its contents, composed of a large stock of buggies, wagons and farm machinery. The loss is nearly $100,000.

Chinese Occupy Macao.

Lisbon, Nov. 16.—Despatches received here from Macao, China, state that the Chinese have occupied the colony, which is Portuguese territory, and that the situation is most serious. Fighting is momentarily expected.

AMERICAN CATHOLICS HOLDING A CONGRESS

Papal Legate Falcone and Thousands of Churchmen Meet in Chicago to Promote Missions.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—The Roman Catholic church in the United States and Canada formally entered on a new era in its history Sunday.

The greatest religious assemblage ever held in Chicago marked the event. Headed by Most Rev. Diomedes Falcone, archbishop of Larissa and legate of Pope Pius X. to the United States, thousands of priests and laymen and scores of bishops, archbishops, monsignors, college presidents, and learned abbots gathered in the city for the four days of impressive ritual and stately ceremony, of oratory and prayer, of formal deliberations and social gatherings that will mark the first missionary congress of the Roman Catholic church in America.

The first ceremony of the congress was the celebration by Archbishop Falcone of solemn penitential high mass at the cathedral of the Holy Name Sunday morning. At this mass Pope Pius' views on church music received explicit in the delivery of the sonorous Gregorian chant.

By a bull of Pope Pius X. the United States and Canada ceased on the first of this month to be missionary countries under the tutelage and government of the Congregation of the Propaganda and became in church matters a "most favored nation" on a par with the old Catholic countries of Europe. It is the aim of the congress to impress upon the millions of Catholics in the two countries the dignity of their new position and that it is now their duty to shoulder the burden of home and foreign missions.

The celebration of the solemn pontifical high mass at the cathedral was preceded by a procession of over 100 members of the American hierarchy and distinguished priests in their ceremonial vestments from the cathedral college to the cathedral. They were escorted by 500 Knights of Columbus of the fourth degree in sword and biret.

The formal sessions of the congress opened in the First Regiment armory Monday morning with addresses by Archbishop Quigley, who issued the call for it, and Archbishop Falcone, the apostolic delegate, the reading and discussion of papers followed.

FLAMES ATTACK REFORMATORY.

Destroy Part of Indiana Institution.

* No Lives Are Lost.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 16.—Five buildings of the Indiana state reformatory and nearly the entire plant of the Indiana Manufacturing Company at Jeffersonville, Ind., across the Ohio river, were destroyed by fire late Sunday. The loss will total about $250,000.

There were no fatalities, 1,500 inmates of the reformatory remained locked in their cells, a portion of them shouting cheer after cheer through the grated windows as they watched the work of the firemen.

When the fire was first discovered in the reformatory, the fire department of the institution was quickly put to work, but in a short time the water plant failed and the Jeffersonville department was summoned. By the time it arrived, however, the flames had gained such headway that Louisville was called upon for help, responding in a short time.

Railroads Will Ignore Order.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 16.—At 12:01 o'clock Sunday night the order issued by the Arkansas railroad commission prohibiting the trunk lines of the state from enforcing the three-cent passenger rate went into effect. The railroads will not comply with the order. A hearing will probably be held at which they will be asked to show cause why the commission should not prosecute them for refusing to obey the order.

Military Officers Mutinous.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 16.—After the burning in effigy late Saturday night at Camp Nelson of Col. Harvey Alexander, assistant adjutant general of Tennessee, a number of the officers of the first Tennessee regiment, on duty in the Redfoot lake region during the recent night rider troubles, declared they will resign if they do not receive regular army instead of state pay for the services rendered.

Game Wardens Are Missing.

Whitehall, Mich., Nov. 16.—Deputy Game Warden Julius Salmonson, his brother, Martin Salmonson, and Deputy Sheriff J. C. Hazeltine have been missing since Saturday midnight and the finding of the false bottom of their boat together with Julian Salmonson's coat and pipe on the beach has given rise to considerable anxiety regarding the safety of the three men.

Pullman Company Wins.

New Orleans, Nov. 16.—In the United States circuit court of appeals Saturday afternoon the case of the Pullman Company against the Texas railroad commission was again decided in favor of the Pullman Company. The case involved the order of the Texas commission requiring a reduction of about 20 per cent, in the charges of the Pullman Company in Texas.

Atlantic Waterways Convention.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 16.—The first annual convention of the Atlantic Deep Waterways association, which was organized in Philadelphia last November, will be held here this week, beginning on Tuesday and continuing Wednesday and Thursday.

There are no undertakers in Japan. When a person dies it is the custom for his nearest relatives to put him into a coffin and bury him, and the mourning does not begin until after burial.

A thrill passed through him. After a moment he relaxed and leaned forward, his chin resting on his clenched hands. "Then let us go back to the old fortin, Eileen."

"What is disturbing our friendship?" she asked. "Do you know? I don't. I went to my room after luncheon and lay down on my bed and quietly doffed. And do you know what conclusion I have reached?"

"What?" he asked.

"That there is nothing else to disturb our friendship," he said. "I said to you on the beach, when I don't know, big I said to you, 'The last girl who says such things, though I was apparently that one moment, said what I said about Gladys was foolish. I am a junior of her Captain Selwyn. Don't think it's a good or poor or excellent girl, but—'

"I wish to ask you something."

"What?" she said. "Go ahead."

"Yes, I take you. Take me back, too, Phillip." Her voice fell exquisitely low.

"Yes, a promise. Do you take me back, Eileen?"

"Yes, I take you. Take me back, too, Phillip." Her hands tightened in his; she looked up at him, faltered, waited, then in a falter voice: "And—he of good courage. I—I am not very old yet."

An hour later, when Nina discovered them there together, Eileen, curled up among the cushions in the swinging chair, was reading about "Evidence of Adatic Influence on the Symbolism of Ancient Yucatan," and Selwyn, astride a chair, chin on his folded arms, was listening with evident rapture.

"Yes, we can, to the old foliage with sentiment 'Change' how it is a name of paradise in taste, we can climb the wall."

"Now I have climbed and now I climb back into the bosom of your dear friendship, very glad to be there again with you—very, very thankful, dear. Will you welcome me back?"

She lay quite still a minute, then sat up straight stretching out both hands to him, her beautiful fearless eyes brilliant as rain-weathered stars.

"Don't go away," he said. "Don't ever go away from our L'iden again."

"No, Eileen."

"Is it a promise—Phillip?"

Her voice fell exquisitely low.

"Yes, a promise. Do you take me back, Eileen?"

Chapter 21.

GOLDEN BLEND IS A STANDARD OF COFFEE

My idea always was and is, that the consumers of coffee are the real judges. They don't know and don't care how a coffee is described, nor how it grades; all they know is, how it drinks. If Golden Blend coffee was not the best coffee in Janesville at the price it would not be sold in one-fourth of all the homes of Janesville. Even the poorest coffee will have some sales if it is pushed as hard as coffee is pushed in this city. You who have been buying coffee from this and that source and paying as high as 30 and 35c a pound possibly have not tried Golden Blend and do not know that it is a standard of excellence and that people who have been using it for the past six years still use it in the face of the fact that they have been solicited by at least a dozen coffee solicitors, or wagon men, or others many times during that period.

As an expert, I know this: That in coffee, as in anything else, there is a standard of what good coffee should be, and that nine-tenths of all the people in Janesville have about the same taste for coffee. When I started in business about seven years ago, I blended a coffee and named it Golden Blend and the quality of that coffee has never varied. Golden Blend is a standard of what good coffee should be and it will suit the taste of almost all the people in Janesville. There is more Golden Blend sold in Janesville than any other two or three kinds of coffee in the city. There are sections in this town where I can walk the street for a whole block and find every house in the block using Golden Blend.

If you will try a pound of Golden Blend upon my recommendation and it does not exactly suit your taste, I will blend specially for you in half pound lots and give you the coffee free until I have your taste then you will have just the coffee you want for all time.

Call me up today.

OBITUARY.

Edward William Lalk, Milton, Nov. 16.—Edward William Lalk, aged twenty-two, a graduate of the Milton Junction high school and a junior at the University of Wisconsin, died on Saturday at the home of his father, A. P. Lalk near Lake Koshkonong of typhoid fever contracted at Madison.

Robert George Clement, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto F. Clement died yesterday at the home of his parents at 54 Pearl street. The funeral was held from the house at two o'clock this afternoon, the Rev. J. H. Tappett officiating.

Mary H. Warsham, Mrs. Mary H. Warsham died on November 12th at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. L. McAllister, in Chicago. Mrs. Warsham, whose maiden name was Swift, was born in Virginia, and came to Rock county in 1864, settling at Edgerton. She was twice married, the first time to John G. Chubb of Manchester, N. H., and the second time to Capt. Richard A. Warsham, who passed away about eighteen years ago. The sons who survive her are Henry S. Chubb of Winter Park, Florida, Ward G. Warsham and Ross A. Warsham of Chicago; two daughter, Mrs. Arthur Harris of Montana, and Mrs. W. L. McAllister of Chicago, also survive her mother. A number of sisters and brothers are left to mourn her loss, they being Mrs. O. D. Bruce of Janesville, Mrs. Eugene Oliver of Seattle, Wash., Mrs. A. R. Wiggonhorn of Watertown, A. C. Swift of Janesville, and E. T. Swift of Deer Reservation, Minn.

Funeral services were held on Saturday morning from her home in Chicago and the remains were then brought to Janesville where services were held from the home of Mrs. O. D. Bruce, a sister of the deceased, on Sunday afternoon. The interment was in the Edgerton cemetery.

Among those from out of town who attended the funeral were Capt. and Mrs. P. H. Swift, Miss Diana Swift and Mrs. A. R. Wiggonhorn of Watertown, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McAllister of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Ward Warsham and Mr. and Mrs. Ross A. Warsham, also of Chicago.

Sacred to Masonry.

Clinton, Ia., Nov. 16.—Members of the Masonic fraternity came from all parts of the state today to attend the dedication of the new Scottish Rite cathedral. The formal exercises take place this evening and will be followed by a three day's reunion of DeMolay lodges. The principal streets are profusely decorated in honor of the occasion, many of the blocks and business houses and hotels being almost hidden by bunting and Masonic emblems.

DAIRY SCHOOL HAS VERY BIG CLASSES

State University Butter and Cheese Making Courses Are Popular—Other University News.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 16.—With a total registration of 135 students, and more entering daily, the dairy school of the University of Wisconsin, which opened last week, has an enrollment which compares favorably with previous years. Some 45 students are studying cheese making, 76 butter making, and 19 are taking both courses. The class is unusual in that 11 students are from other states, notwithstanding the extra tuition fees for non-residents. There are two each from Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Indiana; and 1 each from Michigan, Illinois, Nebraska, Minnesota, and Mississippi. R. R. Welch, a graduate of another agricultural college and for some time junior dairyman for the U. S. Department of Agriculture in the south, is here on leave of absence to better fit himself for his work.

Some new equipment, including combined churning, milk heaters and hand separator, is being installed to afford facilities for student practice. The cream and milk supply has been increased by new routes at Middleton and Fitchburg, in order to provide adequate material for student work. Cheesemaking will begin earlier in the course than formerly, and the instruction in preparation of starters has been improved. Students will have an opportunity this year of attending the cheese exhibition, thus getting a good idea of the quality of butter and cheese produced in the state.

Salt Survey Urged.

"There is, perhaps, no state with a greater diversity of soils than Wisconsin," says Professor A. R. Whitton of the College of Agriculture, University of Wisconsin, discussing the great need for an adequate soil survey of the state.

"Beside the large areas of intermediate clay-loam soils, we have approximately 3,000,000 acres of extremely heavy clay, almost 3,000,000 acres of marsh lands, and between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 acres of sandy soils. The coming legislature will be urged to provide for a complete survey of the soils of the state. The soil is our greatest natural asset, and the permanent prosperity of our state depends largely on how we utilize our natural resources. These special types of soil call for different methods of farming and a complete adaptation of the system of farming to the land under cultivation."

Varsity Attendance.

The new directory of the University of Wisconsin now in press shows 3,237 students in attendance, exclusive of the winter-duty and agricultural courses and the summer session. With these added the total attendance will exceed 4,500. The freshman class this year numbers 935, an increase of 106 over that of last year. The largest increase in attendance was in the college of agriculture, which this year has 228, an increase of 78, or nearly 54 per cent. The college of letters and science shows a steady gain, the total enrollment being 1,340, an increase of 166, or nearly 12 per cent. The college of medicine has 30 students this year, an increase of 6, or 20 per cent.
